Gas Demand Threats From Renewables

January 29, 2021

- Natural gas demand from the power sector has been on a long-term growth path as gas has displaced coal
- Record new solar and wind capacity additions are transforming the power sector
- What do planned renewables projects mean for gas demand?

